

Home > Explore roles > Public health careers > Roles in public health > Public health manager > Skills and interests needed (public health manager)

Skills and interests needed (public health manager)

This page provides a brief list of some of the skills and interests needed by public health managers.

Public health managers will have well developed skills in:

- overseeing the processes involved in tendering of services
- preparing and implementing project plans and strategies and their effectiveness
- setting up clear lines of communication between staff and stakeholders
- financial and people management
- identifying and influencing opportunities for policy development that will improve health and wellbeing and reduce inequalities

Public health managers have skills and knowledge primarily at levels 8 and 9 of the Skills for Health Career Framework [1].

You might also find it helpful to take a look at our career planning section [2] to think more about the skills and qualities you have to offer.

Partner logos

Local Government Association

[3]

[4]

Source URL:<https://www.healthcareers.nhs.uk/explore-roles/public-health/roles-public-health/public-health-manager/skills-and-interests-needed-public-health-manager>

Links

[1]

http://www.skillsforhealth.org.uk/index.php?option=com_mtree&task=att_download&link_id=163

[2] <https://www.healthcareers.nhs.uk/career-planning/developing-your-career/competency-frameworks>

[3] <http://www.local.gov.uk/> [4] <https://www.rsph.org.uk/>