

NIHR in-practice fellowships

Academic training is available to fully-qualified GPs, general dental practitioners and community dentists who may have had little formal academic training.

You'll need to demonstrate outstanding potential for development as a clinical academic. Training is flexible and trainee-centred. There is the opportunity to complete a master's degree or in some cases a PhD.

Find out more about these in-practice fellowships. [1]

?

Source URL: <https://www.healthcareers.nhs.uk/explore-roles/doctors/career-opportunities-doctors/clinical-academic-medicine/nih-practice-fellowships>

Links

[1] <http://www.nihr.ac.uk/funding/in-practice-fellowships.htm>