Changing your career

Whatever you have been doing in a previous job or career, you will undoubtedly have transferable skills and experiences valuable to the healthcare sector.

Follow these links to further information to help you:

- identify transferable skills [1]you could bring to healthcare
- find and apply for jobs in the NHS [2]
- get professional careers advice [3] if you are still not sure

- use your caring skills in a health role [4]
- identify which skills you could bring to a health role [1], including practical skills, organising, and working with people
- find and apply for jobs in the NHS [2]
- return to a career in health [5]
- find out how to get professional careers advice [3] if you are unsure of which direction to take
- read some advice about interviews on the National Careers Service website [6]
- try the Skills Check resources on the National Careers Service website [7]
- speak to a careers adviser at the National Careers Service [8]

Source URL: https://www.healthcareers.nhs.uk/career-planning/health-career-right-you/changing-your-career

Links
[1] https://www.healthcareers.nhs.uk/i-am/working-outside-health/identifying-transferable-skills
[4] https://www.healthcareers.nhs.uk/i-am/not-currently-working-or-training/using-your-caring-skills
[8] https://nationalcareersservice.direct.gov.uk/contact-us/home