Applying for a healthcare degree can seem daunting. There are the personal statements, the university interviews and choosing the right university.

We understand this and want to help.

On Thursday 7 December at 5:30 pm, we are talking LIVE to a student children's nurse, a radiography student and an admissions tutor from the University of West England.

They'll be sharing their top tips on cracking that application and interview, telling us their experiences and answering your questions.
