

Career advisers and teachers

You'll find a range of careers and teaching resources, tools and tips across the website to help you offer advice and guidance.

In this section, you'll find resources and competitions to support careers education and help schools meet the Gatsby Benchmarks for careers provision.

Step into the NHS resources and competitions

You will find a wide range of exciting teaching resources and lesson plans, designed to help you inspire young people about NHS careers from Key stage 2 (KS2) to Key stage 4 (KS4):

- KS2 <sup>[1]</sup> - students can enter the national primary schools' competition, with teaching resources available and designed to raise aspirations and challenge gender stereotyping.
- KS3 <sup>[2]</sup> - students can enter the national secondary schools' competition, which is accompanied by resources that aim to raise the awareness of the range of careers in the NHS and support the Gatsby Benchmarks.
- KS4 <sup>[3]</sup> - an online suite of resources, activities and supporting materials for key stage 4 learners. They can be delivered as part of work in citizenship, PSHE, English, drama, careers education and health and social care

There are many other resources to help you in delivering careers information, education, advice and guidance to your students and clients including:

- a guide <sup>[4]</sup> to work experience in the NHS
- a Find your Career quiz <sup>[5]</sup>
- the Explore roles <sup>[6]</sup> section which gives a detailed overview of more than 350 health roles
- a Compare roles tool <sup>[7]</sup> to get bite-sized information on up to three roles in health
- our Course finder <sup>[8]</sup> which lists undergraduate and postgraduate courses leading to clinical careers in health

Our resources to help you bring the range of opportunities in health to life.

350 careers. One NHS. Your future.

You can also order a range of postcards and an A6 booklets detailing a range of NHS roles from us for free. Discover what's on offer. <sup>[9]</sup>

Your local NHS

As well as the information we provide here, practical help and resources are often available through your local NHS organisations. Each trust has its own policies and ways of working, but may be able to:

- organise periods of work experience for students, linked to curriculum and school timetables
- identify volunteering opportunities where students can acquire some experience of the work that interests them
- arrange for members of their staff to come into your school and talk about the work they do
- stage open days for students
- run 'preparation for' programmes across a range of work areas such as medicine, nursing, healthcare sciences and administration
- provide information on the kinds of local jobs currently available for school leavers

These experiences can be of real value as students decide what kind of career they may want to pursue. To find your local health organisation, visit the NHS.uk [10].
