Home > Working in health > Working in public health

Working in public health

Public health is all about helping people to stay healthy and protecting them from threats to their health. Use the links below to find out more about public health, the types of roles people do in public health, and the wide variety of organisations in which they work.

Can't see the video? You'll need to accept all cookies [1]. Alternatively, visit our YouTube Channel to view our videos [2]

Download video transcript [3]

Click on the links below to find out more about working in public health.

- what is public health? [4]
- why work in public health? [5]
- the public health workforce explained [6]

If you would like to find information about the variety of roles in public health, you should go to our public health careers section [7], where you can find out about what the roles involve, the entry requirements, necessary skills and interests, and training routes.

Source URL: https://www.healthcareers.nhs.uk/working-health/working-public-health