

ONCE A MIDWIFE ALWAYS A MIDWIFE

You never stop being a midwife. So bring your skills back to a job you love.

REJOIN THE TEAM

"This was my vocation,
I was never going to do anything else."

Daksha – Return to Practice Midwife

Returning to practice is easier than you think.

There's more than one way back:

Readmission - If you meet the NMC requirements.

RTP course - With both classroom and placement-based learning.

NMC Test of Competence - A mix of an online test and a practical test.

If you choose to do an RTP course through a university, your fees will be paid and you'll get an extra £1,000 for travel, childcare and books. If you choose to do an RTP course through a Trust, your fees will be paid, and you'll receive a salary or £1,000.

If doing the NMC Test, your fees will either be paid for by your employer, or refunded once you've rejoined the register and started a job with the NHS.

You'll also find opportunities to study and work part-time.

Search Return to Midwifery